

CAREER DEVELOPMENT & TRAINING

In order to benefit from their potentials in the best way possible, it is the Company's policy to provide training for all their employees to enable them to perform better, to prepare them for promotion and thus raise the general information and skill level at the company. The individuals' developmental needs related to future work are also defined in the Performance Evaluation process.